For Some A New Street Is A Treat

A newly-paved street is a treat for boys with roller skates, unicycles, bicycles, pogo sticks and other "vehicles" — but not for the ones who are doing the cleaning up, painting and trimming (unless, of course, you can paint and skate at the same time). New streets, curbs and gutters constitute one of the major improvements at the Boys Ranch in 1975. They were financed by a bequest from the late A. W. (Bud) Smith, former owner and publisher of the Lakeland Ledger, and special recognition of Mr. Smith's beneficence will be included in a memorial service which will be held during the 18th Anniversary celebration at the Ranch, October 5, 1975.

Benefactor to be honored at 18th Anniversary of Ranch

Special emphasis will be focused on the benevolence of the late A. W. (Bud) Smith, former publisher of the Lakeland Ledger, when the Boys Ranch celebrates its 18th Anniversary on October 4 and 5, 1975.

Mr. Smith, a resident of Pinellas County after he retired from newspaper publishing, gave a substantial bequest to the Boys Ranch and a portion of it was used recently to finance badly needed paved streets.

The street work is completed now, and the man who made it possible will be recognized in a memorial service during the weekend celebration.

Other highlights of the anniversary will follow a traditional pattern and will include a moonlight trail ride for Ranchers and visitors; an outdoor pilau supper; a horse show organized by The Clay Mavericks, Orange Park riding club; a Suwannee River barbecue; a worship service in the riding arena; and an opportunity for visitors to view Ranch facilities.

Hundreds of horsemen and other guests are expected to attend the annual event. Many of them will stay overnight at a campsite near the riding arena.

The warm, generous heart of Mrs. Esther Mowry stopped beating on June 22, 1975, but the memory of her kind benevolence will be preserved for many generations to come in Dorista Villa residence, now under construction at the Girls Villa. Mrs. Mowry's gifts to the Villa financed construction of this new addition and she also named it. She told Villa officials that "Dorista" was the name of a woman in Central America who made a lasting impression because of the help she had given to homeless and needy girls. Mrs. Mowry was a long-time member of the Sunshine State Women's Chamber of Commerce, the organization that founded the Villa.

Villa Velly, Velly Livelyly

The Girls Villa is five years old and very much alive. A new residence cottage is under construction, preparations are being made to increase the enrollment, a desperately needed sewer system is snaking over the landscape, educational opportunities are being improved and the recreation program has been expanded. From the top of the new tennis court floodlights to the bottom of the sewer trenches there's a faint, permeating fragrance — and it must be the sweet smell of success.

It's not exciting or glamorous, but the new sewer system and treatment plant at the Girls Villa is a necessary and important addition to a growing institution. Officials said it is also an economy move because it will cost about 75 per cent less than tying in to the nearest municipal sewer system.

Anyone who has played tennis in the broiling mid-summer sun in central Florida will understand the importance of the floodlights installed at the Girls Villa tennis courts. It's a stroke of benevolence from one of our benefactors, and it may well prevent some severe cases of sunstroke.

Country—Western Superstar is Super Friend

After country-western superstar Tammy Wynette gave a concert for the benefit of the Villa on June 22, in Bartow, some of the Villa girls posed with her for a picture. This was only one of several performances Tammy has given for the benefit of the Villa and she ranks among its most faithful supporters. (Polk County Democrat photo)

FRIEND RAISERS — NOT FUND RAISERS

To keep going — and growing — the Girls Villa needs two things: funds and friends.

Raising funds is the responsibility of Florida's Sheriffs, aided by the Sunshine State Women's Chamber of Commerce and other organizations and individuals.

Raising friends is the responsibility of the Girls Villa Board of Associates, a Polk County organization that has been functioning effectively since the early days of the Villa.

Headed by Jack O. Johnson, amiable public defender, this conglomerate of good-will ambassadors constitutes a broad cross section of key people. It includes law enforcement men, a clergyman, a doctor, a purveyor of peat moss, a bank president, an industrial firm executive, a state senator, a newspaper publisher, a plumbing supply dealer, an insurance executive, a cattleman, a citrus grower, an executive from a citrus processing firm.

And an association executive, a school board member, a clubwoman, a building contractor, a dentist, an auto dealer, a pharmacist, a printer, an educator and a utility executive.

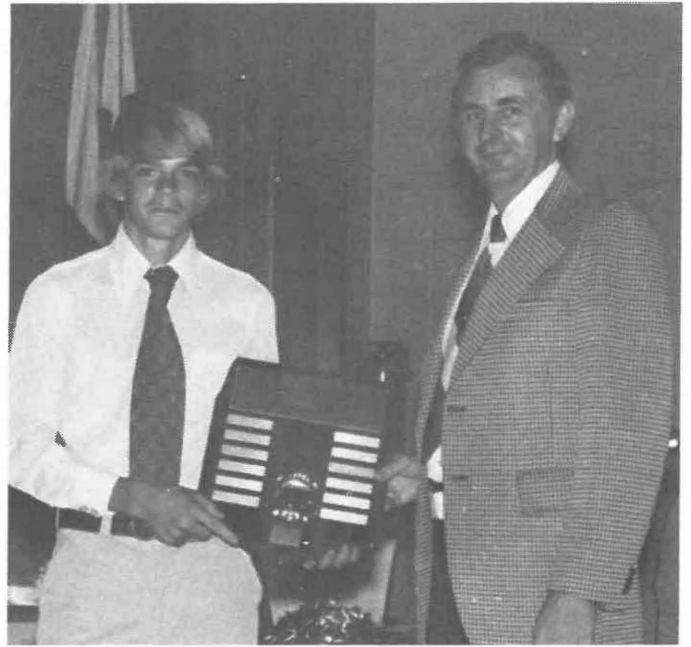

Primarily, the Board of Associates is a communications link between the Villa and the citizens of Polk County. Members also serve as advisors to the Villa Staff and provide professional services free of charge.

The board meets three times a year to get a status report on the Villa and to discuss related matters. Members are also kept informed through periodic newsletters so that they, in turn, can accurately inform the public regarding the progress of the Villa.

Villa officials have been enthusiastic in their praise of the Board of Associates, and they can cite many examples of its effectiveness. The warm, compassionate relationship that exists between the people of Polk County and the girls at the Villa is not the least of these.

Athletic Award presented to Tom Williams by Earl Hurst, Supervisor of Recreation.

Music Award presented to Tom Chastain by Assistant Executive Director Jim Strayer.

Achievement Awards

Pictured here are the Ranchers who received major achievement awards for 1975 — the award is the equivalent of a movie "Oscar" or a high military decoration.

There were also 22 other awards for the best housekeeper, worker, dresser, vocational-technical school student, artist, camper, hunter, jokester, fisherman and reader; as well as the most courteous, cooperative, confident, suave, popular and personable Ranchers.

During the awards ceremony special recognition was extended to three graduating seniors: John Bowe, Wayne Fidler and John Gowdy. Each senior also received a gift of luggage and an electric shaver.

Agriculture Award presented to Paul Hutto by Richard Herring, Assistant Farm Manager.

Academic Award presented to Robert Putnam by Dick Guderyahn, Social Service Director.

Leadership Award presented to Wayne Fidler by Harry Weaver, Executive Director.

MEMORIAL FUND GIFTS

Ranch Grads Are "Just Wild About Harry"

When Harry Weaver speaks, people listen — especially boys — and it has been that way ever since he became the executive director of the Boys Ranch in 1961.

But, on May 17, during the Boys Ranch Alumni Association reunion, former Ranchers gave him an affectionate "roasting", and, for just a few hours, it was his turn to listen.

He had to sit incommunicado while Ranch alumni, staff members and other long-time associates kidded him with a parody of Lincoln's Gettysburg address, entitled "The Harrysburg Address"; needled him about some of his eccentricities; and stopped just short of sainthood with their praises.

They resurrected an old familiar ditty entitled "I'm Just Wild About Harry", and crested a wave of sentimentality by presenting him with a handsome clock.

When Weaver accepted the gift, he found engraved on it his favorite quotation — one attributed to Pope John XXIII: "See everything, overlook a great deal, correct a little."

Visibly touched, he expressed his gratitude, and then, just in case anyone might misinterpret the celebration as a prelude to his retirement, he added, "We still have a lot to do before we are finished."

The banquet honoring Weaver was only one of several highlights during the Annual Boys Ranch Alumni Association reunion.

In a business session, Ronnie Williams was elected president of the Alumni Association to succeed Jerry Willard. Named to serve with him for the coming year were Leonard Russek, first vice president; Greg Swisher, second vice president; Mrs. Leonard Russek, secretary; and Wally Edwards, treasurer.

A picnic lunch, a volley ball tournament and a special chapel service rounded out the program. Over 150 former ranchers and staff members and their families attended the weekend celebration.

Weaver is best boss

LIVE OAK — Harry Weaver, Executive Director of the Boys Ranch and Girls Villa, was honored as the "Boss of the Year" when the Live Oak Junior Chamber of Commerce held its annual awards banquet, May 22, 1975. In connection with the award, it was pointed out that Weaver has devoted considerable time to community projects in Live Oak, in addition to his extensive responsibilities as head of the Ranch and Villa.

Many former Ranchers returned with wives and children.

Former Rancher Robert Knight was the featured speaker at a special chapel service.

Ranchers won the volley ball tournament by trouncing the alumni team and the staff team.

For alumni, a picnic brought back fond memories of those famous Boys Ranch "burgers"

We don't isolate families from children

When a child is enrolled at the Boys Ranch or Girls Villa, we don't slam the door on the family.

On the contrary, we are constantly seeking opportunities to keep families involved in the business of raising their children, and to change the Ranch and Villa from child-oriented to family-oriented institutions.

One step taken in this direction is group meetings for parents of Ranch and Villa youngsters. It began as an experiment in the Jacksonville area, and was so successful there that we are now considering the possibility of extending it state-wide.

The experimental meetings were held once a month and they were effective in eliminating the feeling of isolation some parents experienced when their children entered the Boys Ranch and Girls Villa.

They also gave parents an opportunity to express love and concern for their children even though separated from them.

Historically, we have always held that a good, normal family is the best environment for raising boys and girls, and we are constantly striving to make our homes good second choices.

Toward this end we have encouraged parents to visit the Ranch and Villa, and for the youngsters to visit their parents. Our social workers counsel parents and consult with them. In fact, our Social Service Department has been structured in such a way that each social worker spends at least 50 per cent of his time contacting families.

As an alternative to having a child "committed" to the Ranch or Villa by court order, we have developed a Family-Agency Agreement which allows families and the institutions to share the responsibility of child care.

Many times, because of the close relationship between our social workers and the families of our kids, we have been able to assist in improving family environments so that children can return to their families.

We are always seeking an answer to this question: "What is best for the child?" One answer is: "Keep the parents involved."

Jenny And Veronica Well Matched

Being the youngest and smallest girl at the Villa has some advantages for Veronica Malonzo, who is nine years old. She's just the right size to ride on the gentlest steed in the stable, lovable Jenny the jackass. Veronica's sister Lisa also lives at the Villa and is pictured here giving some riding instructions.

They Came Bearing Gifts

Boy Scout Troop 263, from St. Petersburg, spent a weekend at the Boys Ranch and presented a gift of $400, half of which was raised through waste paper drives, and the other half donated by St. Petersburg businessmen. The Scouts camped on the banks of the Suwannee River, roamed the woods, played football and basketball, and hosted the Ranchers to a weiner roast.

FORT PIERCE — There's an interesting history behind the check totaling over $4,000 Ken Phillips (left) is handing to St. Lucie County Sheriff Lanie Norvell as a bequest to the Boys Ranch from the estate of the late John Vespers. According to Sheriff Norvell, Mr. Vespers was employed as a plasterer during construction of some of the buildings at the Boys Ranch and was so favorably impressed that he left his entire estate to the Ranch. Mr. Phillips was the executor of Mr. Vespers' estate.

First Time For Villa Girls

Recently, two graduating seniors from the Boys Ranch took two Villa girls to the Suwannee High School senior prom. It was an historic occasion, but not surprising since letter writing, dating and visiting is commonplace between boys from the Ranch and girls from the Villa. The seniors in the picture are John Bowe (left) and Wayne Fidler. The girls are Cindy Faircloth and Kathy Miles. Their corsages were a gift from Sheriff and Mrs. Joe Crevasse, of Gainesville, who have been providing prom corsages for Ranchers for many years.

Ranchers Getting Interested In Angus Cows

Angus breeding and showmanship caught the interest of Ranchers when Mrs. Anita Brown, of Live Oak, and John Crouch, southeastern representative of the American Aberdeen-Angus Association, visited the Boys Ranch to show a film and distribute literature. Mrs. Brown, pictured at the extreme left with Crouch, breeds Angus cattle on a ranch in Kentucky and has taken an active interest in cattle raising activities at the Boys Ranch. G. S. Hollingsworth, of Arcadia, recently gave the Boys Ranch its first registered Angus cow.

FOR THE VILLA — WITH LOVE

BARTOW — End of summer — and another chapter is being written in the love affair between the Girls Villa and Polk County.

It's called the Annual Girls Villa Classic, a county-wide celebration that produces both fame and financial support for the Villa.

And there's something for everyone. This year the string of events began with a junior golf tournament on August 18 and 19; and continued with a Miss Bartow Pageant; a gala ball; a press tournament; a women's team championship; and, finally, the Villa Classic golf and tennis championships which will wind up on September 1, Labor Day.

Financial proceeds amounting to thousands of dollars will go to the Villa; but equally important is the fact that Bartow, Polk County and the Villa have an opportunity to unite in a common cause that seems to benefit all concerned.

Business firms get involved as sponsors, and community leaders play prominent roles in the planning. This year, W. H. Stuart, Jr., local cattleman, citrus grower and financier, is serving as general chairman and is being assisted by an executive committee which includes Polk County Sheriff Monroe Brannen, George Holder, Dr. Paul E. Cury, Richard Hiss, Dexter Traxler, Damon Lawrence, Mrs. John W. Burdin and Gail O'Doski.

Traditionally, a country-western show has been part of the Villa Classic program. This year, Superstar Tammy Wynette gave her usual outstanding performance for the benefit of the Villa girls, but it was held on June 22 rather than during the August celebration.

This year's Villa Classic will mark the fifth anniversary of the fast-growing Villa which was founded by the Sunshine State Women's Chamber of Commerce and is now sponsored by the Florida Sheriffs Association.

Rancher Preparing For Career

TALLAHASSEE — A career in aviation has been chosen by Donnie Michaels, a Rancher who was graduated from Suwannee High School in 1974. He is currently studying aircraft engine repair at Lively Vocational Technical School and plans to study air frame repairs later. The instructor with him is J. R. Dufresne.

First Dividend Checks For Young Tycoons

The last issue of THE RANCHER contained an article about FSBR Company (pronounced "Fizzburr"), a manufacturing firm totally owned and operated by Ranchers to manufacture unique polarized, all-weather sunglasses designed by Joseph C. Clark, an Orlando engineer. This picture is a sequel. It shows Mr. Clark in the act of distributing dividend checks to six boys who are stockholders, a status acquired by working 10 hours for each share of stock. Mr. Clark not only designed the variable density glasses which can be adjusted to all light conditions, but also backed FSBR Company financially and has been coaching the boys in their business venture. The unique sunglasses can be ordered at $6 a pair by writing to FSBR Company, Boys Ranch, Florida, 32060.

This Ought To Cheer Up Auto Owners

There's good news for people who fret about sloppy and bumbling auto repair work. The Boys Ranch has produced an outstanding auto mechanic who was recently selected to appear in the 1975 edition of "Who's Who in American Vocational and Technical Schools". His name is John Bowe and he's pictured here as a student at Suwannee-Hamilton Area Vocational and Technical School. He maintained an A-plus average during his senior year, qualified for special training at Lake City Community College, acquired a high school diploma in May, and is now employed in an auto repair shop in Kissimmee. While at the Ranch, John was president of the advisory council and was the resident-instructor and crew leader at the Boys Ranch auto shop.

Education Building Next Project

The next project to be undertaken at the Boys Ranch will be an education building, with emphasis on remedial education. It will contain a learning laboratory, library, barber shop, canteen, vocational lab and group meeting rooms. Operation will be financed through a grant from the James Graham Brown Foundation, and the building itself is being financed by the bequest from the estate of the late Henry Beck.

Gifts from Gold Kist and Dow

The hackneyed image of big corporations as cold and heartless monsters took a beating at the Boys Ranch on the Fourth of July when Gold Kist, Inc., a distributor for Dow Chemical Company, threw a party for a large group of ranchers.

The boys were treated to a steak barbecue, competed for prizes in a variety of athletic events, and received two riding lawn mowers as a gift.

Gold Kist, Inc., a large regional farmers' cooperative with a processing plant near the Boys Ranch, earned the gift mowers through sales performance in a program sponsored by Dow Chemical U.S.A., of Midland Michigan. The gifts were provided by Dow to be given to a local charity, and Gold Kist selected the Boys Ranch.

Headquartered in Atlanta, Gold Kist serves members in 13 southeastern and southwestern states. In addition, numerous products bearing the Gold Kist label are marketed throughout the U.S. and in 25 foreign countries.

As a token of appreciation, Boys Ranch Executive Director Harry Weaver (left) presented a Florida Sheriffs Association Lifetime Honorary Membership to Gold Kist, represented by James Cannon, district agronomist.

Somebody yelled "steak's on" and Ranchers quickly formed a chow line.

... and finally there were Boys Ranch-grown watermelons for dessert.
